PURPOSE AND USES OF THE ECONOMIC CENSUSES

The economic censuses are the major source of facts about the structure and functioning of the Nation's economy. They provide essential information for government, business, industry, and the general public.

Economic censuses furnish an important part of the framework for such composite measures as the gross national product, input-output measures, production and price indexes, and other statistical series that measure short-term changes in economic conditions.

Policy-making agencies of the Federal Government use the data, especially in monitoring economic activity and providing assistance to business.

State and local Governments use the data to assess business activities and tax bases within their jurisdictions and to develop programs to attract business.

Trade associations study trends in their own and competing industries, and keep their members informed of market changes.

Individual businesses use the data to locate potential markets and to analyze their own production and sales performance relative to industry or area averages.

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE

Title 13 of the United States Code (sections 131, 191, and 224) directs the Census Bureau to take the economic censuses every 5 years, covering years ending in 2 and 7. The 1987 Economic Censuses consist of the

- Census of Retail Trade
- Census of Wholesale Trade
- Census of Service Industries
- Census of Transportation
- Census of Manufactures
- Census of Mineral Industries
- Census of Construction Industries

Special programs also cover enterprise statistics and minority-owned and women-owned businesses. (The 1987 Census of Agriculture and 1987 Census of Governments are conducted separately.) The next economic censuses are scheduled to be taken in 1993 covering the year 1992.

AVAILABILITY OF THE DATA

The results of each of the economic censuses are available in printed reports, for sale by the U.S. Government Printing Office, and on microfiche, computer tape, compact discs with read-only memory, and flexible diskettes, for sale by the Census Bureau. Order forms for all types of products are available on request from Customer Services, Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233. A more complete description of publications being issued from this census is on the inside back cover of this document.

Census facts are also widely disseminated by trade associations, business journals, and newspapers. Volumes containing census statistics are available in most major public and college libraries. Finally, State Data Centers in every State and Business and Industry Data Centers in many States also supply economic census statistics.

WHAT'S NEW IN 1987

Several changes have taken place for the 1987 censuses. Data will be reported on the basis of the newly revised Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system with selected reports including "bridge tables," linking the old and new classification systems. A new set of metropolitan areas has been adopted, and more detailed information will be available for businesses with no paid employees. For additional information on these changes, review the subsequent text.

HISTORICAL INFORMATION

The economic censuses have been taken together as an integrated program at 5-year intervals since 1967, and before that for 1963, 1958, and 1954. Prior to that time, the individual censuses were taken separately at varying intervals.

The economic censuses trace their beginnings to the 1810 Decennial Census, when questions on manufacturing were included with those for population. Coverage of economic activities was expanded for 1840 and subsequent censuses to include mining and some commercial activities. In 1902, Congress established a permanent Census Bureau and directed that a census of manufactures be taken every 5 years. The 1905 manufactures census was the first time a census was taken apart from the regular every-10-year population census.

The first census of business was taken in 1930, covering 1929. Initially it covered retail and wholesale trade, and construction industries, but it was broadened in 1933 to include some of the service trades.

The 1954 economic censuses were the first to be fully integrated—providing comparable census data across economic sectors, using consistent time periods, concepts, definitions, classifications, and reporting units. These were the first censuses to be taken by mail, using lists of firms provided by the administrative records of other federal agencies. Since 1963, administrative records have also been used to provide basic statistics as well for very small firms, reducing or eliminating the need to send them census questionnaires. The Enterprise Statistics Program, which publishes combined data from the economic censuses, was made possible with the implementation of the integrated census program in 1954.

The range of industries covered in the economic censuses has continued to expand. The Census of Construction Industries began on a regular basis in 1967, and the scope of service industries was broadened in 1967, 1977, and 1987. The Census of Transportation began in 1963 as a set of surveys covering travel, transportation of commodities, and trucks. New for 1987 are publications reporting on business establishments engaged in several transportation industries, paralleling the data on establishments in other sectors. This is part of a gradual expansion in coverage of industries previously subjected to government regulation. The Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises was first conducted as a special project in 1969 and was incorporated into the economic censuses in 1972 along with the Survey of Women-Owned Businesses.

Economic censuses have also been taken in Puerto Rico since 1909, in the Virgin Islands and Guam since 1958, and in the Northern Mariana Islands since 1982.

Statistical reports from the 1982 and earlier censuses provide historical figures for the study of long-term time series, and are available in some large libraries. All of the census data published since 1967 are still available for sale on microfiche from the Census Bureau.

AVAILABILITY OF MORE FREQUENT ECONOMIC DATA

While the censuses provide complete enumerations every 5 years, there are many needs for more frequent data as well. The Census Bureau conducts a number of monthly, quarterly, and annual surveys, the results of which appear in publication series such as Current Business Reports (retail and wholesale trade and service industries), the Annual Survey of Manufactures, Current Industrial Reports, and the Quarterly Financial Report. Most of these surveys, while providing more frequent observations, yield less kind-of-business and geographic detail than the censuses. The County Business Patterns program offers annual statistics on the number of establishments, employment, and payroll classified by industry within each county.

SOURCES FOR MORE INFORMATION

More information about the scope, coverage, classification system, data items, and publications for each of the economic censuses and related surveys is published in the Guide to the 1987 Economic Censuses and Related Statistics. More information on the methodology, procedures, and history of the censuses will be published in the History of the 1987 Economic Censuses. Contact Customer Services for information on availability.

CENSUS OF TRANSPORTATION

The 1987 Census of Transportation, part of the 1987 Economic Censuses, covered selected transportation industries as defined in Division E of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) manual.<sup>1</sup> It included all establishments with one or more paid employees primarily engaged in the following classifications:

SIC code	Title
42	Motor freight transportation and warehousing
44	Water transportation
47	Transportation services

The census excluded firms without paid employees, and governmental<sup>1</sup> establishments classified in the covered industries. The basic tabulations in this report also exclude data for establishments which are "auxiliary" (primary function is providing a service, such as an administrative office) to transportation establishments of the same organization or firm. Data for auxiliaries are presented in a subsequent report issued as part of the 1987 Enterprise Statistics reports.

For the 1987 Census of Transportation, large- and medium- size firms, plus all firms known to operate more than one establishment, were sent questionnaires to be completed and returned to the Bureau by mail. For most very small firms, excluding those with no paid employees, data from existing administrative records of other Federal agencies were used instead. These records provided basic information on location, kind of business, revenue, payroll, number of employees, and legal form of organization. In addition, more detailed information for selected kinds of business was obtained on the various questionnaires.

Appendix A gives a more detailed explanation of census coverage and methodology.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS

This report represents a recompilation of data collected in the 1987 Census of Transportation and is divided into four categories: size of establishment, size of firm, legal form of organization, and detailed information for specific SIC's.

Size of establishment—Only establishments which operated the entire year have been classified into the various size groups used in the establishment size tables (tables 2 and 3). An establishment is classified as "operated entire year" if it operated 10 months or more during the year. Data for establishments which reported that they were in operation fewer than 10 months are separately summarized as "not operated entire year."

Revenue size—Data in table 2 are classified into revenue size groups depending on the value of revenue reported for the year 1987.

Employment size—Data in table 3 are classified into employment size groups depending on the number of employees on the payroll during the pay period including March 12, 1987. Proprietors, partners, and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in determining the employment size of an establishment.

Size of firm—A firm may be either a single establishment (single unit) firm or a multiestablishment (multiunit) firm. Firm size groups are based on aggregate data for all establishments operated by the same firm in the kind-of-business classification, group, or total for which data are presented. For example, a firm operates two transportation service establishments: a freight forwarding service (SIC 4731), and a packing and crating service (SIC 4783). At each of the two most detailed levels of classification, each of the establishments is a single unit operated by a multiestablishment firm. At the transportation services major group level (SIC 47), it is a 2-establishment multiunit. In tables 4 through 7, data are presented based on revenue size of firm, employment size of firm, concentration by largest firms, as well as for single unit and multiunit firms (by number of establishments operated). In tables 4 through 6, only firms which operated the entire year are classified into the various size groups. A firm is considered to have "operated entire year" if any of its establishments at that SIC level operated 10 months or more during the year. Data for firms which reported that none of their establishments operated 10 months or more separately summarized as "not operated entire year."

Single unit and multiunit firms—Data in table 4 are classified into firm size groups based on the number of establishments operated. A single unit firm is a firm with only one establishment engaged in economic activities. A multiunit (multiestablishment) firm is a firm with two establishments or more engaged in economic activities. A multiestablishment firm may, however, operate only one establishment classified in transportation.

Revenue size—Data in table 5 are classified into revenue size groups depending on the value of revenue reported for 1987.

Employment size—Data in table 6 are classified into employment size groups depending on the number of employees on the payroll during the pay period including March 12, 1987. Proprietors, partners, and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in determining the employment size of a firm.

Concentration of largest firms—Data in table 7 are presented separately for the 4, 8, 20, and 50 largest firms based on total revenue.

Legal form of organization—Data in table 8 are presented for firms by legal form of organization for four separate categories. Only establishments of firms subject to Federal income tax are included in this table. Since firms which are exempt from Federal income tax normally have a corporate legal form of organization, there is no corresponding table for these establishments. For the method of assigning legal form, see Explanation of Terms, Legal form of organization, in appendix A.

Detailed information for specific SIC's—Data in tables 9 through 17 are presented to show some detailed information for specific SIC's. Major sources of revenue are shown for most industries, and expenditures for purchased transportation are shown for motor freight transportation (SIC 421) and arrangers of freight and cargo (SIC 473).

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES

In accordance with Federal law governing census reports, no data are published that would disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business. However, the number of establishments in a kind-of-business classification is not considered a disclosure, so this information may be released even though other information is withheld.

GEOGRAPHIC AREAS COVERED

The specialized data in this report are provided for the United States as a whole and for some subjects by selected metropolitan statistical areas (MSA's) and/or States. The MSA's included in this report are those defined by the Office of Management and Budget as of June 30, 1987. An MSA is an integrated economic and social unit with a population nucleus of at least 50,000 inhabitants.<sup>2</sup> Each MSA consists of one or more counties meeting standards of metropolitan character; in New England, cities and towns rather than counties are the component geographic units.

DOLLAR VALUES

All dollar values presented in this report are expressed in current dollars, i.e., 1987 data are expressed in 1987 dollars. Consequently, when making comparisons to prior years, users of the data should consider the inflation that has occurred.

RELIABILITY OF DATA

All data compiled in this report originated from either census questionnaires or administrative records of other Federal agencies and, therefore, are not subject to sampling errors. However, the data are subject to nonsampling errors. Nonsampling errors can be attributed to many sources: inability to identify all cases in the actual universe; definition of questions; errors in coverage, and estimation for missing or misreported data.

The accuracy of these tabulated data is determined by the joint effects of the various nonsampling errors. No direct measurement of these effects has been obtained except for estimation for missing or misreported data; however, precautionary steps were taken in all phases of the collection, processing, and tabulation of the data in an effort to minimize the effects of nonsampling errors. The Bureau of the Census obtains on computer tape limited information extracted from administrative records of other Federal agencies. This information is used in conjunction with other information available to the Census Bureau to develop estimates for nonemployers, small employers, and other establishments for which responses were not received in time for publication. For an indication of the extent that data included in these reports were obtained from the administrative records of other Federal agencies and from estimation, rather than reports directly from respondents, see appendix E. Also, see appendix A for a more detailed explanation of census coverage and methodology.

MICROFICHE

The data in this report series are also available on microfiche and sold by the U.S. Government Printing Office.

SPECIAL TABULATIONS

Special tabulations of data collected in the 1987 Census of Transportation may be obtained, depending on availability of time and personnel, on diskette, computer tape, or in tabular form. The data will be in summary form and subject to the same rules prohibiting disclosure of confidential information (including name, address, kind of business, or other data for individual business establishments or companies) as are the regular publications.

Special tabulations are prepared on a cost basis. A request for a cost estimate, as well as exact specifications on the type of format of the data to be provided, should be directed to the Chief, Business Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

To discuss a special tabulation before submitting specifications, call 301-763-5282.

Consequently, many establishments will handle freight that is in transit for which no revenue is allocated. Some of these establishments are called "break-bulk" terminals.

General Explanation

CENSUS COVERAGE AND METHODOLOGY

Structure and method of enumeration—The industries covered by the 1987 Census of Transportation establishment census included all employer firms. (The term “employers” refers to firms with one or more paid employees at any time during 1987 as shown in the active administrative records of other Federal agencies.) These firms were divided into the nonmail universe and mail universe. The coverage and method of obtaining census information from each follow:

1. The nonmail universe consisted of selected small employers, i.e., single-establishment firms with payroll below a specified cutoff. Although the payroll cutoff varied by kind-of-business, small employers generally included firms with one to four employees and represented about 10 percent of total revenue of establishments covered in the census. These firms were generally not required to file a regular census return.

Data on revenue, payroll, and employment for employer firms below the payroll cutoff were derived or estimated from administrative records of other Federal agencies, except for a 10 percent sample of small employer firms in classifications for which specialized data requirements precluded reliance solely on administrative records sources. This sample was included in the mail universe.

2. The mail universe consisted of firms for which information was obtained by means of a mail canvass and included:

- a. Large employers, i.e., all employer firms above the size cutoff referred to in 1. Within this category, a report of company organization is conducted periodically to identify establishment locations of firms, which operated at more than one location, and to obtain information on payroll and mid-March employment at each location. The 1986 Report of Company Organization was used as a coverage check in the census. In the census mailing package containing the appropriate 1987 questionnaires, multiestablishment firms also were sent a form to use in updating the list of establishments.

- b. The 10-percent sample of small employer firms in classifications for which specialized data precluded reliance solely on administrative records sources. These firms were sent the census mailing packages containing the appropriate 1987 questionnaire.

Method of classifying kinds of business—The transportation industries classifications for all establishments were based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual.<sup>1</sup> However, the method of assigning these classifications, and the level of detail at which establishments were classified, differed between the normal and mail universes as follows:

1. Selected small employers in the nonmail universe were classified on the basis of the most current census kind-of-business classification available from one of the Bureau's current sample surveys or the 1982 census. Otherwise, the classification was obtained from the administrative records of other Federal agencies.

If the census or administrative record classifications proved inadequate (none correspond to a 1987 census classification in the detail required for employers), the firm was sent a brief inquiry requesting information necessary to assign a 1987 census kind-of-business code.

2. Establishments in the mail universe were classified on the basis of their self-designation, answers to questions on revenue by type of service provided, and other special inquiries. Each establishment (i.e., terminal) location operated by a motor carrier was classified according to the kind of trucking activity it supported.

COMPARABILITY OF THE 1982 AND 1987 CENSUSES

The 1982 and 1987 censuses were conducted under similar conditions and procedures except for the following:

Classifications—In 1982, kind-of-business classifications were based on the 1972 Standard Industrial Classifications (SIC) Manual and its 1977 Supplement. In 1987, these classifications are based on the 1987 SIC Manual. There are major revisions to the earlier SIC structure which limit the comparability of data between the 1982 and 1987 censuses. The 1987 SIC-based kind-of-business classifications for the transportation industries covered by this census are described in detail in the "Kind-of-Business Classifications" section below, and those which have significantly changed from 1972 and 1987 are listed in appendix H.

1982 data could not be retabulated based on the revised 1987 SIC system to allow data comparability since, in many cases, information needed to assign the 1987 classifications to the 1982 records was not available. However, 1987 census records were assigned both a 1987 and 1982 SIC-based classification. Census data for 1987 are presented based on the 1987 classifications in this publication. In addition, both 1987 and 1982 data for the United States and States are presented in Table 3 of the Geographic Area Series report for those industries covered in both censuses.

Geographic areas—The boundaries of a number of areas for which data are shown in the 1987 census are not the same as in the 1982 censuses because on annexations, other boundary changes, and redefinitions of 1982 standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) and standard consolidated statistical areas (SCSA's) into metropolitan statistical areas (MSA's), primary metropolitan statistical areas (PMSA's), and consolidated metropolitan statistical areas (CMSA's).<sup>2</sup>

Scope—The 1987 Census of Transportation establishment census includes Motor freight transportation and warehousing (SIC 42), Water transportation (SIC 44), and Transportation services (SIC 47). Public warehousing (SIC 422) and arrangement of personal transportation (SIC 472) were covered by the 1982 census and published in the 1982 Census of Service Industries, Miscellaneous Subjects (SC82-1-5).

Establishments—In 1982 and prior censuses, the count of establishments represents the number in business at the end of the year. In 1987, the count of establishments represents those in business at any time during 1987 (regardless of operation status at the end of the year).

A comparison of the number of establishments in business at the end of the year versus the number active anytime during the year for the United States as a whole is presented in appendix G.

<sup>2</sup>Newly defined metropolitan statistical areas (MSA's) and also certain terminology changes were announced by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) effective June 30, 1983. The previous term "standard metropolitan statistical area" was shortened to "metropolitan statistical area." If an area has more than one million population and meets certain other specified requirements, it now is termed a "consolidated metropolitan statistical area" (CMSA) and consists of major components recognized as "primary metropolitan statistical areas" (PMSA's). Many of these PMSA's were formerly recognized as SMSA's and the majority were also included in standard consolidated statistical areas (SCSA's) defined by OMB beginning in 1975, each of which consisted of two or more closely associated SMSA's. Metropolitan areas not included in CMSA's are designated simply as metropolitan statistical areas (MSA's).

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Establishments—An establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted. It is not necessarily identical with a company or enterprise, which may consist of one establishment or more. Statistics for the transportation industries covered by the 1987 censuses represent a summary of reports for individual establishments rather than companies. For cases where a census report was received, separate information was obtained for each location where business was conducted. When administrative records of other Federal agencies were used instead of a census report, no information was available on the number of locations operated. Estimates of this number were derived from a sample and are provided in this report. Each census report was tabulated according to the physical location at which the business was conducted. The count of establishments represents those in business at any time during 1987.

An attempt was made to measure a part of this understatement of locations operated by analyzing the 10-percent sample of small employers. Of the 5,286 such transportation firms mailed, 34 responded to the number of locations inquiry and reported operations at 107 locations. By weighting these variables by a factor of 10 and assuming that firms in the sample that did not return their report would respond as those that did report, this sample representing 340 firms would have operated a total of 1,070 establishments.

When two activities or more were carried on at a single location under a single ownership, all activities generally were grouped together as a single establishment. The entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity, and all data for it were included in that classification. However, when distinct and separate economic activities (for which different industry classification codes were appropriate) were conducted at a single location under a single ownership, and when conditions prescribed by the SIC manual for recognizing the existence of more than one establishment were met, separate establishment reports for each of the different activities were obtained in the census.

Firms—A firm is a business organization or entity consisting of one domestic establishment (location) or more under common ownership or control. All establishments of subsidiary firms are included as part of the controlling firm. For the economic censuses, the terms "firm" and "company" are synonymous.

Operating revenue (Basic dollar volume measure for transportation establishments covered by the census)—Includes gross revenue from customers or clients for services rendered, the use of facilities, and from merchandise sold in 1987, whether or not payment was received in 1987. Travel agents, shipping agents, and shipping brokers were to report on a commission basis rather than by gross billings or sales. Tour operators were to report the difference between the selling price of their tours and the amount paid to suppliers, and freight forwarders were to report the difference between gross charges and the amounts paid to other transportation companies. Revenue from leasing of vehicles, railroad cars, equipment, etc., marketed under operating leases are included in revenues as well as the fair sales value of merchandise in 1987 under capital, finance, or "full payout" leases. Revenues also include the total value of service contracts, amounts received for work subcontracted to others, and dues and assessment from members and affiliates.

Revenues are net after deductions for refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Revenue do not include sales, occupancy, admissions, or other taxes collected from customers and remitted directly from the firm to a local, State, or Federal tax agency, nor do they include income from such sources as contributions, gifts, and grants; dividends, interest, and investments; or sale or rental of real estate. Also excluded are rents from and revenues (gross as well as the establishment's share) of departments and concessions which are operated by others; sales of used equipment rented or leased to customers; commissions from vending machine operators; and other nonoperating income such as royalties, franchise fees, etc.

Annual payroll—Payroll includes all forms of compensation, such as salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation allowances, sick leave pay, and the value of payments in kind (e.g., free meals and lodgings) paid during the year to all employees, including owner-operator drivers on the payroll and employees on ships at sea. Tips and gratuities received by employees from patrons and reported to employers are included. For corporations, payroll includes amounts paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit or other compensation of proprietors or partners. Payroll is reported before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. This definition of payroll is the same that used by the Internal Revenue Service on form 941.

First quarter payroll—This item consists of payroll, as defined above, paid to persons employed at any time during the quarter January to March, 1987.
